All Service Work On Your Electric Meter is PL&WCo.'s Job

As a friendly reminder to all of our electric customers, the Parkland Light & Water Co. (PL&WCo.) does not allow anyone other than a qualified PL&WCo. employee to pull our electric meters or disconnect electric service for any reason.

Because of the potential electrical hazards involved, the state Department of Labor and Industries requires PL&WCo. to provide special training in the meter disconnect process to our employees. PL&WCo. also is required to outfit our employees with special safety equipment to be used in the meter disconnect process, such as specially tested insulated gloves, arc flash resistant shirts and pants, blast resistant face shield and a hard hat.

No electricians are authorized to disconnect PL&WCo. meters. If you plan on doing electrical work in your home or place of business, please give our electric department a call and make arrangements for PL&WCo. to disconnect the meter and service for you and your electrician.

PL&WCo. provides meter and service disconnecting and reconnecting at no charge when performed during normal business hours to accommodate our members. An unauthorized meter or service disconnect could result in a $250 tampering fee.

Let's all be safe and let PL&WCo. perform the hazardous work for you for free.
